

Fourth of July Serving Tray

Perfect for entertaining on the porch, patio, or balcony, this tray displays family heroes and fun times, as well as your patriotism!

What you'll need

- Large unfinished wood serving tray
- Red glossy paint and a paintbrush
- Small American flag
- Assorted 4"x 6" photos that show American pride
- Scissors, pencil, ruler
- Rubber cement
- 1/8" glass cut to fit

Optional: clear silicone caulk in a squeeze tube; rag

What to do

- 1 Give the tray two coats of paint, letting it dry after each coat.
- 2 Scan and print multiple images of a flag onto photo paper.
- 3 Compose a mosaic of flag images and family photos. When you're pleased with the arrangement, trim photos to avoid multiple layers, and glue to tray.
- 4 Insert glass. For permanence and freedom from worries that spills will ruin the photos, seal the joints between the edges of the glass and the walls of the tray: squeeze clear silicone caulk around the edges, then wipe away excess with a rag.

Hint: This tray can be made with other themes. For example, for a tray that matches your decor, simply scan a seat cushion or table cloth, print it on photo paper and use it as the background for your tray!
